

A VISIT TO THE TOLLKEEPER'S COTTAGE

GROUP VISITS: $6 PER PERSON

The cottage sits at its original intersection where tolls were collected from about the 1830's to the turn of the century. After having been used as a modern dwelling, it has been carefully restored to illustrate the life of the tollkeepers in the 1860's. Wherever possible, the artifacts are all from that period or earlier.

TEA AND COOKIES

By prior arrangement, tea and coffee, and a snack, can be provided for a small additional fee. The tollkeepers, mostly Irishmen, really enjoyed their tea. Real coffee was a luxury beyond their means. Workshops on knitting, mending, and other heritage skills are sometimes available.

A docent in period dress will wax eloquent about the life of the tollkeeper and his hard-working wife and children. Most of our ancestors of the time lived lives of hard work and little comfort.

The building is of a rare vertical plank construction, of which only half a dozen are known in Ontario. There is a modern addition attached to the cottage, with such niceties as heating and a washroom. The entire cottage is wheelchair accessible.

The Cottage grounds have been planted with native plants and species the pioneers would have brought with them. Tansy and rudbeckia were grown from seed by a grade 3 class, that came and planted them. We have had generous assistance from local gardening group Grassroots Albany, and from Clean and Beautiful City grants from the City of Toronto.
